DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-6, 9-11, 14-19, 22, 25-26, drawn to a bone powder.

Group II, claim(s) 12-13, and 23-24, drawn to a method for producing bone powder.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

3. Group I is directed to a porous matrix that is impregnated with fine bone powder obtained by pulverizing living bones or teeth. The special technical feature is considered to be a porous matrix impregnated with living bone or teeth bone powder.

Group II is directed to the preparation of bone powder where a fine bone powder is prepared and then applied to a porous structure. The special technical feature is considered to be the application of a fine bone powder onto a porous structure.

Since the abovementioned groups of claims do not share either of the technical features identified, a "technical relationship" between the inventions (living bone/teeth bone powder versus generic bone powder), as defined in PCT rule 13.2 does not exist.

Art Unit: 3774

Accordingly the international application does not relate to one invention or to a single inventive concept.

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species A (fine communicating pores open to an outer surface of a porous structure)

Species B (fine communicating pores open to inner walls of macro pores)

Additionally, if applicant elects Species A or B a further election of subspecies is required (see below):

Sub-species 1: structure porous in its entirety

Sub-species 2: structure porous only at the surface layer

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 3774

5. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A: claims 2, 9, 18, 22

Species B: claims 3-4

Sub-Species 1: claim 10

Sub-Species 2: claim 11

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 5, 6, 12-17, 19, 23-26

6. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The above listed species do not share a special technical feature as they are mutually exclusive features.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

8. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

Art Unit: 3774

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
